WHAT TO DO WHEN SELLING A VEHICLE

When you are no longer responsible for a vehicle (eg you sell it or give it to someone), you must advise the Registrar of Motor Vehicles in writing within 7 days. You may be held liable for camera detection and other offences until the new operator details are recorded by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles.

Do not rely on the new operator to transfer the registration into their name.

A registration certificate identifies the vehicle details and the name and address of the person responsible for it. It is not evidence of legal ownership.

HOW TO DISPOSE OF A VEHICLE

- Complete this whole form together with the buyer/new-registered operator.
- Give the Application for Transfer of Vehicle Registration to the buyer/new-registered operator ensuring you have completed your details and signed as the seller/previous registered operator.
- You can dispose the vehicle at transport.tas.gov.au/registration/buying,_selling_or_transferring or take the Notice of Disposal to a Service Tasmania shop within 7 days.
- The notice of disposal cannot be processed without providing the full name and address of the new operator. You may be held liable for camera detected and other offences until the new operator details are recorded by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles.
- Do not rely on the new operator to transfer the registration into their name or to lodge the Notice of Disposal for you.

If you have any queries contact Service Tasmania on 1300 135 513.
