

Hi, there is a shortage of wheelchair cabs after 5pm each day. None of the taxi companies will guarantee a pickup. They take a booking but noone turns up.
Can something be done to ensure that some capacity can be guaranteed at all hours please? At least do an assessment of the need. I doubt that demand would be sufficient to be profitable so some sort of support may be required. Even if one or two drivers were on stand-by it would be helpful.

Cheers
